

ELEVENTH ANNUAL CLINICAL PRACTICE FORUM

Omni William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh, PA

September 14 – 16, 2017

The HPNA Clinical Practice Forum is an annual evidence-based interactive and interdisciplinary education conference that examines clinical and professional issues in palliative and hospice care. Attendees learn how to enhance practice in a variety of settings, examine the latest best-practices, and network with other professionals in the field. This event is one of the premier educational and networking events for nurses and other team members who work in the specialty of palliative care, and directly impacts the quality of care in our industry.

The opening plenary for this year's HPNA Clinical Practice Forum is the award-winning journalist and author Suzanne Gordon, who writes about health care systems and patient safety. Other topics include a discussion on end-of-life dreams and visions, a look at the Measuring What Matters project, reviewing the discussion at the recent Palliative Nursing Summit, and examining educational design from competent to expert. The Clinical Practice Forum is open to all nurses needing more information on palliative care.

Attendees in previous years came from over 30 states, with a majority being registered nurses or advanced practice registered nurses, and many holding leadership positions in their organizations. This forum draws nursing professionals from health systems, hospitals, home care organizations, hospices, palliative care networks, and long-term care facilities.

Listed on the attachment are our rates for sponsorship, exhibition, and advertising in the program book. We are asking you to be a supporter of the Eleventh Annual HPNA Clinical Practice Forum. Levels for this event provide many options to meet your budget. You can support the entire forum, or pick a specific activity at the conference, which includes the opening reception, Friday luncheon, or breakfast. Each option will give you the opportunity to showcase yourself as an industry leader. If there are other sponsorship options you would consider, do not hesitate to let us know, and we will work with you.

Thank you for considering sponsoring, exhibiting or advertising for this unique clinical conference.
